A workshop on care and styling of African hair and makeup for darker shade skin

Suitable for teenagers, adults and parents with young children

Darker Shades of Beauty Salon will be providing a 'hands on' workshop and demonstration to teach care and styling of African hair, and make up for darker skin. Children are welcome with their parents and Lynda will provide assessment and advice on products suitable for your child's hair.

Lynda Shaw, from Ghana West Africa, runs a salon catering predominantly for people of African origin. Lynda's salon offers a variety of services including braiding, corn rows, singles (plaits with or without extensions), dreadlocks, hair relaxing, perms, deep conditioning and maintenance treatments, and boys and men's shaping and styling. Her salon specialises in children's hair.

The salon also sells skin care and make-up products for darker skin. Free samples of hair product will be given to those attending.

Hair products and makeup for darker skin will be available for testing and can be ordered.

Some food will be provided but please also bring snacks and anything else which you think will help your children enjoy the afternoon.
