2 Day Intensive Workshop

HOBART - 26th November & 27th November 2009

9.30 – 5.00 pm each day

Dan Hughes:

For the past 28 years Dan's professional training and experience has focused on the effects of abuse and neglect on childhood development, and especially on the development of anxious and disorganized attachment patterns. Relying heavily on the theory and research of attachment security, he has developed child and family psychotherapy interventions that serve to facilitate a child's ability to form secure attachments, following early years of abuse and neglect as well as parenting interventions that complement the treatment.

Dan's current passion is the training of therapists in the Dyadic Developmental Psychotherapy model. DDP is a directive, client-centered approach, influenced by psychodynamic, gestalt, Rogerian, and Ericksonian traditions, brought together within the dance of affect attunement that is seen most powerfully in the relationship between a parent and her/his infant and toddler. DDP has gradually become applied to less severe problems between parent and child as well as to marital and family relationships.

Dan is the author of three books, Facilitating Developmental Attachment: The Road to Emotional Recovery and Behavioral Change in Foster and Adopted Children, Building the Bonds of Attachment: Awakening Love in Deeply Troubled Children, Attachment Focused Family Therapy and Attachment Focused Parenting. His new clinical practice set of DVD's Developing Attachment also guides clinicians in the implementation of Dyadic Developmental Psychotherapy.

Pamela Mc Closky:

Pam McCloskey is a clinical psychologist in Pennsylvania who has provided psychological evaluations and treatment for the past 28 years. During that time she has specialized in clinical and forensic evaluations of child and adolescent victims of sexual abuse as well as the treatment of abused and neglected children and adolescents who were frequently in foster and residential care placements. 6 years ago Pam began to integrate Dyadic Developmental Therapy into her treatment interventions so that now it is a central part of the treatment of all of her cases. DVDs of her treatment cases present differences from Dan's cases due to her personality and gender, while still remaining true to the treatment model.
